

Leadership Change Possible After Shaving Mishap

by Baron Van Uppurlipp

After the success of the Dirty 30 and the realization that flying by the seat of one's pants was not going to work long term, in 2010 bylaws were written covering as many situations as possible.

However one item that started as a joke after 82 Busch Lights has come full circle and now threatens a change at the helm of M4K Omaha, right in the middle of their toughest campaign to date.

Article 16, Section 93, Paragraph 39, Subsection G, Point Cc, Exception 4 clearly states that "In the event a Board Member shaves his mustache during May, the next awarded Nastiest Stache may challenge for the position via open vote of the membership, and if at the time Stachies are awarded the challenger has less than an aggregate 50 whiskers, said Nastiest Stache winner will receive a bonus credit of 16 votes for every actual vote they receive."

Thought to be buried far enough that no self-respecting mustachioed man would ever read that much anyway, and given that no Board Member would be absent minded enough to warn growers about shaving in Week 1 for 10+ years and then shave Week 1, it came as a total shock to everyone when Jaymes A. Sime announced a challenge for both Nastiest Stache and possibly vacated Chairman/CEO position.

There are still several weeks to go but based on early projections it would seem Jaymes and his 31 whiskers are a lock to receive that vote multiplier bonus.

DOUG COURON TELLS CURL THE TIPS TO "EAT MY BUTT" by Dick Fitzwell

Seven year competitive smoke show grower Doug Couron offers meat, specifically smoked pork butt, for money deal. Not necessarily a novel idea, but damn it do we like it. Also, not really off brand for M4K but things got fun when one Curl The Tips grower told Doug-e Fresh to put his money where his mouth is! Or they'd give him some money to put his meat where their mouth is?

Wait, it's gotta be your bull. Honestly not really sure what happened but rumor on the street is we are looking at a BIG TIME smoke off in late 2020. Think Doug still has any pellets left in the hopper or will Curl The Tips smoke him?

WHAT SHAVES MY STACHE

by Larry Harmon

You know what really shaves my stache?

Knuckleheads who can't do one of the only two things we do.

I mean what kinda bozo can't raise a couple bucks for kids?! Even worse, what kinda klutz shaves off his mustache 5+ days into May?!

I mean come on, how is M4K not the only thing you are thinking about in May, during a global pandemic?

You gotta be a real numskull to shave off your luscious lip luggage in May. I'm talking total buffoon. Seriously, next level goofball stuff to "accidentally" shave off you money maker. Think of the kids.

Wonder if it would help if we made coffee mugs that said "It's May. Don't Shave."?

Maybe we need to make transparent stickers that guys can stick on their mirrors.

Maybe some sorta lip shield that clips to your nose.

Maybe we just need guys that aren't total butter fingers.

I mean seriously, what kinda clown does a thing like this?

M4K Holds First Ever Online Selleck Lounge

by Five Dollah Chicken Wingies

Mustache Kris began the meeting with saying he accidentally shaved his Stache in the shower for the first time in his 12 years of growing because there was just so much going through his mind.

I have a feeling that those whiskers weren't the only thing that went down the shower drain.

Reigning ROY, Nick Phillips was the first member of the 2019 class to get re-inducted. After some technical difficulty, and many mic checks, Nick was able to get virtually pinned and was so overcome with emotion he had no comment. He was finally able to compose himself and share his perspective on the affair.

"A few 4th year growers got together today to share Thor's Hammer. Not sure what that was all about, but apparently it was VERY hot."

There were multiple rookies sworn in, which is in my limited experience very rare.

One was sworn in live- but is currently the first Selleck ever put on a probationary watch list for being unable to recite the easiest pledge in the history of easy pledges.

Two rookies were also in the top five of most fund raising-est so far, and the rest are at large for selling toilet paper and ground beef at a 10x mark up.

10 year grower Zeek says he's tired of being on top, but that's ok because Covi says Tom Brantley and Tom Rosencrans will be switching positions all May long.

After the formal presentations, there was much talk about Hubbs and his baby goats at which time video for me cut out.

Not sure what happened in the meantime, but when I got back into the meeting, Val said something about someone being done 3 minutes early."

Mis(stached) Connections

THE GOAT MASTER - WSM

Saw a video of you shaving off your goatee recently. Gotta say, that was a great choice. For one brief minute you looked so charming with your luscious mustache. Respond with what that hair smelled like for a good time.

SIX FEET APART - CSM

We are a wild and adventurous couple looking to make a new friend. Recently saw a picture of your foot online and it was a big 10-4 for us. Respond with what happened to that toe and maybe we can bring our six feet together.

Who Let The Stache Out?

by The Baha-haha Men

Nothing is normal in 2020. You've fallen out of your habits – your rituals. Sometimes shaking things up is a good thing.

Other times, you gotta beware. If you lose focus for one second, it could be a catastrophic ending. Like let's say ... oohhh... I don't know... maybe SHAVING YOUR MUSTACHE DURING THE FIRST WEEK!!!!!!

For some, all is not lost. For guys like Ian Rennels, you could 'accidentally' shave a couple days before Stache Bash – and still have an outside shot at Mr. Testosterone.

Or maybe you're follicularly challenged like Jacob Carlson, and it's a chance to look at someone with less of a mustache than you and really rip into them.

Outside of that, no one wants to be that guy. If you've made the rookie mistake of shaving week 1, here is a list of 10 songs to listen to while you think about what you've gone and done.

10. ZZ Top – Sharp Dressed Man: Well, you may be sharply dressed, but the place between your lip and nose – which is technically called the philtrum – is now nowhere dressed but went down to something sharp.

9. Hall & Oates – She's Gone: No other words. Your stache. She's gone.

8. Deana Carter - Did I Shave My Legs For This?: No, you shouldn't shave your legs...or say, your Mustache during 1st week of growing season.

7. Talking Heads – Don't You Forget About Me: That is what your mustache was SCEAMING before being shaved.

6. Elvis Costello – Accidents Will Happen: Yeah. They happen. Doesn't make forgetting and shaving any less funny.

5. Eric Carmen – All By Myself: You have nothing on your face to look longingly at in the mirror. It's just you, mustacheless, all by yourself.

4. Beck – Lost Cause: It is. Yes, it is. (See also; Loser: You are. Yes, you are)

3. Weezer – Say It Ain't So: I'm guessing nobody believed such an idiotic thing could happen.

2. Pete Townshend – Face The Face: That's EXACTLY what you had to do in the mirror...face the face – the BARE face.

1. The Jacksons – State Of Shock: It's the haze you'd be reeling in for a while if you shaved prematurely.
