

The Mustache Monitor

Volume 9
Issue 2

May 22nd, 2018

OMAHA'S LEADING MUSTACHE NEWS SOURCE

New World Record Set At Magnum P.I. Hawaiian Shirt Night

By Choncho Velazquez
Mustache Monitor Best Word Guy

Omaha, NE - The Omaha Chapter of Mustaches for Kids is used to records. But, they normally are breaking records with the insane amount of money they raise.

Thursday night at M4K Omaha's Magnum P.I. Hawaiian Shirt Night did see another donation record set with $225,000 raised, but that was not the highlight. The Guinness Book of World Records sent a representative to the Pipeline Tavern with a hunch there was going to be a world record set.

"We first heard of M4K when they barely missed the world record for highest enchilada auctioned off at a Thursday bar in the Midwest," said Guinness spokesman

Jack Etonn. "When we saw how many guys were signed up this year, we just knew that they were going to make the record books in some way."

“ Just goes to show you, growing a Mustache will make all your dreams come true!

- Bern Mendick

The record they set was 'The Most 30+ Year Old Men With Mustaches Wearing Hawaiian Shirts In May During A Non-

Leap Year' with 175 guys. The previous record was 15 in 1987 at a Magnum P.I. VHS release party in West Colton, CA.

But M4K Omaha didn't stop there, they also set the world record for most credit cards left at the bar after last call, with 170. They just missed the world record for cars parked at an adjacent Walmart parking lot prior to a happy hour/checkpoint by only two cars.

"I cannot believe that I am a part of history," said Bern Mendick. "Growing up I always checked out the Guinness Book of World Records from the school library, hoping someday that I could be awesome enough to set a world record.

"Just goes to show you, growing a Mustache will make your dreams come true!"

It will also land you on page 654 in the Guinness Book of World Records.

Sweetest Injured In Freak Skydiving Accident

The Magnum Bucket List Tour Goes Awry

By Angel McWhisper

Mustache Monitor National Treasure

Waterloo, NE – Sweetest Stache winner Benny the King knew his days with The Magnum were numbered. So, instead of skipping town to Mexico with trophy in tow, he created The Magnum Bucket List, doing everything he ever wanted with his beloved hardware.

Benny took the Magnum on roller coasters, bull riding, wine tasting, to the peak of Mt. Everest and on a motorcycle road trip through Mustache country. It was his second to last bucket list item that went south, literally.

"I always wanted to go skydiving, but never had the courage or the hardware to do it," said Benny. "I grabbed the trophy, my backpack, Rob Steele and hopped on a plane in a beet field in Waterloo."

It was that backpack that played a role in the events to follow. You see Benny always has a backpack full of Chinese made sunglasses (with the len's popped out), an emergency six-pack of Busch Light and 3 to 9 costume changes. With the extra costumes jammed in the backpack, it was much larger and resembled the parachute bag. At 10,000 feet, Benny turned on his Facebook live feed and dramatically hurled himself out of the plane.

The Magnum in one hand, his cell phone in the other and Steele right below him, it was time to pull the chute. Steele's opened like a beautiful flower in May and then Benny went to pull his cord. But there was a little problem, it was not there.

This picture was taken mere seconds before Benny the King realized he grabbed the wrong bag.

As he was frantically searching for the rip cord, hurling towards the earth, it was then he realized he'd grabbed the wrong pack. Instead of a 50-foot parachute, he pulled out a size 33 pair of pink bell bottoms.

"No regrets at all, you never know when a Wooderson costume will come in handy," said Benny. "So I did what any Sweetest would do, a quick costume change, shout out on Facebook live to my fans and hugged the Magnum close to my heart and braced for impact."

With the force of free fall, and the amount of residual Mic Ultra in his system, Benny blacked out and when he came to, he was one with the Magnum (for lack of a better phrase). Benny was transported to the nearest hospital that specialized in rectal removal. Luckily, former Sweetest Stache Dr. Shahab Abdessalam was on call and understood the importance to keeping the Magnum unharmed.

"It appears the Magnum missed all major organs, in which it was not damaged by any of them," said Abdessalam.

A few hours in the hospital (he has a Mustache) and Benny was back to the last item on The Magnum Bucket List, swimming with Great Whites off the coast of Australia. You just can't keep a Mustache man down.

M4K Wins Dodgeball Tourney

By Monitor Staff Writers or George

Omaha, NE - If you can dodge a razor, you can dodge a ball.

That was the advice of M4K Omaha Dodgeball coach Steve Arquette as he was recruiting men for the Omaha Dodgeball Championships.

"I've watched the Dodgeball documentary with Patches O'Houlihan probably 3,000 times," said Arquette. "I knew I could bring together a team of the worst Mustache guys and still bring home the gold."

And there had never been a more rag tag group of dodgeball players than this guys. Players like Mike "Stickman" Carlin, Doug "Moving Target" Seaman and Andrew "Stone Hands" Galvin, Arquette had his work cut out for him.

"What these guys lacked in athletic ability, they more than made up with excessive substitutions," he said. "Yeah, I get it you're old and walking to the car requires aspirin, now dodge that ball!"

So how did he pull it off? Bacon, he gave them lots and lots of bacon. Oh and they were also playing Wheeler Elementary School's B team.

Magnum P.I.tiful: No Stache, No Deal

THE MACALLAN

Stache, Scotch & Life

For the last eight months there has been a buzz in Hollywood about CBS bringing Magnum P. I. back to the small screen. The Dow Jones rose 4,000 points based solely on optimism in anticipation of Tom Selleck's return to the role of a lifetime.

Well, you might as well liquidate your portfolio and put all your money in Precious Moments figurines after the recent announcement of Jay "WITHOUT A MUSTACHE" Hernandez in the eponymous role. Hernandez would be a fine choice for Magnum's sidekick Rick, but this terrible idea of a cleanshaven Magnum may not make it to the first commercial break. The producers should have learned from other too-clever reboot twists like:

The Munsters- Vern Troyer will forever be known as the iconic Mini-Me. The aptly named production company, Brain Fart Entertainment, thought he was the perfect choice to bring Herman Munster back into our living rooms in 2011. After the pilot was audience tested, the members of the focus group beat up the moderator, kicked the receptionist in the groin and burned down the building.

All in the Family- Dane Cook starred in this 2007 reboot of the Archie Bunker vehicle, playing the lead role. The twist was that Instead of him hating everyone, everyone hated him, like in real life. Nickelback and Creed combined to sing the theme song. Craigslist ads for televisions for sale went through the roof when this premiered.

Ghostbusters (all-female cast)- Unfortunately that one really happened. Who ya gonna call? Walgreens for a strong antiemetic.

Mis(Stache)d Connections

Over The Top For You (MMSF)

I was 20 deep into a case when we met, or as I like to call it my over the top phase. So naturally I challenged you to an arm wrestling match to break the ice. We got Clock Bok'd before I could find out your favorite Sylvester Stallone movie. Meet me at the Mark this Thursday, I'll be in the Cobra leather jacket and shades.

No Bono, But U'll 2 (FSMM)

I thought I had won tickets to U2, but turns out they were to Stache Aid. Been wanting to land a lead singer my entire life and once you belted out Sweet Caroline, I was hooked. If you would have had a harmonica player, I'd be making you pancakes right now. Meet me at Darby's, I'll be wearing the Mustache handkerchief you threw at me after Don't Stop Believin'.

Bacon The Bank (FSMM)

I never thought I'd meet anyone that loved bacon more than me. Thursday at the Pipeline changed that thought. You bid $250 for 7 pounds of bacon and my heart skipped a beat. I was too shy to talk to you, but the love of bacon has cured my shyness. Meet me at Benson Park Friday, third grill down by the seesaw, I'll bring the heat you bring the meat.

Shock Gee.....Can I Get My Glasses Back? (MMSF)

Last Thursday, I was wearing my Shock G glasses to have some drinks with the fellas. My buddies said you were a Best Costume groupie and asked to wear them. Next thing I knew, you were gone with my glasses. I'm gonna need them back, meet me at Nobbies this Saturday at 8 am.

Mustaches In The Crowd

What's The Biggest Change You've Noticed Since You Grew A Mustache?

Adam Saalfeld

Well for starters, I can understand T-Ball Coach.

Jon Nguyen

My wife is now pregnant with twins.

Phil Haussler

I finished rebuilding my neighbor's '68 Camaro.

Brent Smoyer

Probably raising $1,000 for a children's charity.

Joe Finelli

The importance of an American made Mustache comb.

Casey Buresh

Being able to turn and keep off "Africa" by Toto.