Flash Matches Cause Stock Market Collapse

by Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez-Shufflebottom-Hufflepuff-Worcestershire-Sauce

The Dow Jones dropped over 600 points over the past week, and investors are bracing for a bear market (no more shaving your back hair, fellas). Wall Street analysts quickly pointed the finger at M4K Omaha for the cause of the recent dip.

A disheveled-looking Jim Cramer went live on Mad Money exclaiming "We're in a free fall here! People are dumping their stock in huge volumes and going all in on Flash Matches! No diversification!

It took just over two minutes on last week's Flash Match and people were screaming 'RECESSION!' Total chaos!"

pushes giant red button that makes a fart noise

Will the M4K flash matches continue to create turmoil in the market? With another weekly record total announced at Pipeline it appears likely the only investing happening in May will be in Angels Among Us. Sorry, Don.

The fake news Mustache Monitor will tell you that Chris Napierala and Jon Meyers won Bella's Derby Flash Match fair and square. NOT! #CrookedKevinCovi helped them steal over $3000 in prize purse money. No more! #BadDeal Will impose tariffs on all donations to #CrookedNapierala and #CrookedJon's mustaches. Covfefe

Shamrock Omega Cheats Death Once Again

by Kip Dynamite's Doppelganger

The second Thursday following Clean Shave Night has many engrained traditions. While the core theme is for all growers to wear a Hawaiian shirt to the Pipeline Tavern and drink beer, there is also the swag auction, short shorts, the first updated grower photo and the group photo out on the deck.

Because of our swelling ranks, this means that our official photographer, Phil "Shamrock Omega" Wonder, must perch himself on the median of a 6 lane thoroughfare in order to capture the panoramic view of our group. Keep in mind that 72nd St. is the second busiest road in Nebraska.

The danger is amped up by the high average motorist speed, Phil's blood alcohol content and the distracted driving of the perverts careening out of Dr. John's next door with their latest marital aide. A quick consultation with a 30 year OSHA employee reveals that Phil's activity is more dangerous than the following:

- Walking through Michael Vick's backyard blowing on a dog whistle while wearing a bacon Speedo.
- Finding yourself between George Svagera and his beer.
- Swiping right on Jeffrey Dahmer.
- Calling Ndamukong Suh a p* right before yelling HUT.
- Making fun of Vladimir Putin's comb-over while wearing a Rocky IV t-shirt.

- Chain smoking at an oil refinery.
- Finding yourself between Brent Smoyer and a drunken coed.
- Eating sushi you found in your trunk 3 days after Stache Bash.
- Finding yourself between Brent Smoyer and 2 drunken coeds.

Phil successfully navigated this potential death trap for yet another gem of a photo. "It was actually way scarier getting shots of the Scooter Mob. Those guys were out of control." Agreed, Phil. That kind of awesome cannot be controlled.

ASK MUSTACHE GEORGE

Should I stick with my mustache name forever, or change it up?

Are you steady and stable like the mighty rock of Theodore Roosevelt's face on Mount Rushmore or are you whimsical and weird like Salvador Dali. You do you boo.

Does the government offer any for a tax relief for a mustache?

They do. Just go donate a crap load or two of money to Angels Among us and you can deduct the amount from your income.

Does this new partnership between M4K and Beiber mean I can rock his cds in public finally?

NO! First, you cannot "Rock" Justin Beiber, and two, why do still use cd's. Go get some Nugent or Skynyrd, you weirdo.
